

WINNER OF THE OPENING event on the New Lenox Riding club's annual show was Ray Grossman, of Milan, Ill. This first event was the open jumping class in which the hurdles ranged in height from three feet six inches to four feet three. Grossman's mount negotiated all of the obstacles on the course without a fault. The show was held Saturday night and Sunday at the Fred H. Francis 4-H field on Francis road, New Lenox.

There were many different events on the program with entries drawn from many communities. As always the New Lenox Riding club show was well attended. This was the first year for the jumpers and spectators liked them. There was another open jumping class on the Saturday night program where the jumps were higher--from three feet nine inches to four feet six.

NOT IN MOOD for jumping was this mount of Judith Congruel of Hinsdale in the open jumpers class, the first event on the New Lenox Riding club program last Saturday night. The riding show ran thru Sunday. The horse refused the first two hurdles, each time unloading the rider. Arrow at left points to flying stirrup.

QUICKER THAN THE EYE is the camera lens. Here you see the horse rising for the jump. His front legs bent up at the knee, clear of the obstacle but the camera sees something the eye would miss--the hind feet are still on the ground. The rider has his weight forward to aid his friend the horse. But for the spectators it appears to be all one movement, the front legs clear and the back legs off the ground. For the photographer to have been able to catch the hind legs sailing over and the front legs going down for a landing he would have had to have been twins or using a movie camera. The action is just too fast. This picture was taken at the New Lenox Riding club show. The rider is Kenneth Marks, of Oak Lawn. (Semmler Press Photos)

A. Tyler Takes Over As Head of N. Lenox Schools

Arnold J. Tyler has moved his family from Marshall, Ill., to New Lenox and has taken over the duties of superintendent of the grade schools as successor to John Oster who resigned at the close of the 1961-62 school year.

The Tylers have moved into the former James Hearn residence on Joliet highway. Mr. and Mrs. Tyler have four sons, James, a sophomore at Indiana State college, Thomas, a high school student, William, 10, and Arnold, Jr., 5, who will enter first grade in September.

Mr. Tyler comes to New Lenox from Marshall where he was supervisor of the elementary schools. Under his leadership the Marshall grade schools developed new programs improving the curriculum that have helped to provide greater opportunities for every child in the district.

He was graduated from Indiana State college with a bachelor of science degree in 1947 and received his masters in 1951.

Mr. Tyler is a past president of the Eastern Illinois Division of the Elementary School Principals Association; co-director of the Eastern Illinois Area of Special Education Co-operative program and a life member of the National Education Association.

Debate Coach Leaves On African Trip

The Rev. Dallas Mucci, pastor of the Tinley Park Church of the Nazarene and debate team coach at Lincoln-Way high school, and his wife Sandra, have left for Africa where he will conduct youth camps while Mrs. Mucci will work in the laboratories operated in conjunction with the two hospitals maintained by the church.

They are making the trip with Dr. Howard Hamlin, a Chicago surgeon and members of the staff of South Shore hospital. Dr. Hamlin is the father of Mrs. Mucci.

The doctor's wife, two sons and another daughter are also making the trip.

Last summer Dr. Hamlin spent five weeks in Africa, dividing his time between the two hospitals at his own expense. This year, he said, he would not return until about Sept. 25.

The party is sailing from New York for Italy and will complete the journey from there by plane.

Dr. Hamlin explained they were making more of a vacation of it this year and enroute Johannesburg, South Africa, they planned to visit the Holy Land, stopping in Syria, Jordan and Israel.

One of the hospitals where Dr. Hamlin will work is the Raleigh Fitkin Memorial in Bremersdorp, about 200 miles west of Johannesburg. The other hospital is about 250 miles from Bremersdorp at Acorn Hoek, in Transvaal.

The Rev. Mr. Mucci will return earlier than the others. The Hamlins are of Scottish ancestry and the family, including Mrs. Mucci, will visit Scotland on their way home.

Dr. Hamlin's associates will take care of his practice while he is away. Doctors from America and Europe fill in at the two African hospitals in the summer to give the physicians stationed there a chance for leave.

He has been active in service and community organizations and is the immediate past president of the Marshall Lions club. He also was secretary of the Marshall planning commission; chairman of the board of deacons of the First Congregational church there; child welfare officer of the Clark County American Legion post, No. 90; member of the Salvation Army service committee and was a first aid instructor of the Clark county chapter of the American Red Cross.

Arbury Hills School In Need Of Class Space

Arbury Hills school, Summit Hill Dist. 161, needs more classrooms to accommodate the increasing school population and to meet this difficulty the board of education has hired an architect to draft such plans as are necessary to arrive at an estimate of cost of such a project.

Later this summer the board is expected to fix a date for a bond issue referendum.

William J. Scheidmannel, of Downers Grove, has been hired by the board to draw plans. Scheidmannel was the architect for the Frankfort school addition and the remodeling project at Ann Rutledge.

As Arbury Hills has grown it is only natural that the school population has zoomed. In the past three years, it was pointed out, the enrollment has jumped from 35 to 199 and still climbing.

Futuristic Homes, Inc., developers of Arbury Hills erected a six room school for the community. While the school was being built the Summit Hill directors got approval of a bond issue to add two rooms to the structure so when completed it was an eight-room building. But now more room is needed, it was stated.

The need for more class space is especially acute in the lower grades, it was explained. Advance registration for the first grade class this September has reached 45. These second grade numbers 38. Both figures represent only those children presently living in the district, it was stated, and no attempt is made to predict increases because of new families moving into the area this summer and fall.

School enrollment figures for the next five years, it was pointed out, indicate the need of one additional classroom per year to handle only those youngsters who were counted in the district census taken last February.

In addition to classroom space needed, school officials point to the sub-standard program offered the children because of the lack of facilities for music, physical education and assembly programs as well as after school activities for both youngsters and adults. The proposed addition would include a multi-purpose room to allow the educational program of the school to expand into these areas.

More information will be forthcoming as details are worked out by the architect, board and superintendent.

L-W Completes Teacher List Some Classes Overloaded

With the appointment of H. Raymond Hickerson to fill the vacancy in the art department, the teacher requirements have been filled, according to Donald D'Amico, assistant principal at Lincoln-Way.

Hickerson replaces Kenneth Kinney who resigned to accept a position at the Homewood Flossmoor high school. A graduate of the University of Kentucky, Hickerson received his master's degree from the University of Michigan. He formerly taught in the Birmingham (Michigan) schools.

Other recent appointments to the Lincoln-Way staff include Miss Kathryn Bourdage who received her bachelor's degree from Illinois State Normal university. Miss Bourdage taught the past three years at the Milford (Illinois) township high school. She will teach shorthand, typing and business english.

Miss Mary Castle, also a graduate of Illinois State Normal university, has been appointed to the English department. She will teach English and journalism in addition to handling the school yearbook and publicity. Miss Castle has taught in Iowa schools and more recently at the Aurora West H.S.

Larry Cullison, a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan university, has been added to the music department. Mr. Cullison is a resident of New Lenox and graduated from Lincoln-Way. Cullison took his graduate work at the University of Texas where he was assistant conductor of the University Symphony. In this capacity he conducted a six night run of "The King and I" and two regular concerts of the University Symphony.

Thomas Gustafson, from Joliet, has been assigned to the social studies department. Gustafson received his bachelor's degree from Augustana and will receive his master's in August from the University of Illinois.

J. Michael Muchmore, a graduate of Eastern Illinois university, will teach English and speech. Muchmore formerly taught in the Palatine and Crystal Lake (Illinois) schools.

Lincoln-Way High School is experiencing its largest enrollment. It is expected it will reach 975 by the opening of school in September. Because of increased enrollment it was reported by school officials that several courses have had to be closed. The business department in particular has the greatest enrollment overflow. Such classes as bookkeeping, shorthand, office machines, business english, and typing are closed to further registration. Other classes which have been closed are college prep Math I, plane geometry, natural science and twelve sections of English. Every effort has been made to give each student the program that he requested.

"However, in the face of limited facilities," Mr. D'Amico reported, "that it is becoming increasingly difficult to schedule students without facing increased conflicts. The development of new team teaching projects in biology, general math, general business, have helped to ease some of the enrollment pressures. However, they have also increased the scheduling difficulties in that now there are more possibilities for conflicts."

In an effort to schedule all school activities such facilities as corridors and locker rooms are being used to house classes. Team teaching projects in U.S. History, freshman social studies, and senior social studies have classes as large as 130 students and are being accommodated in the auditorium, all-purpose room and cafeteria. Team teaching projects in biology, general business and general math will accommodate classes as large as 95.

School authorities hope to avoid split shifts this year.

Mokena Youth Escapes Injury In Fiery Crash

Thomas Marcoux, 18, of Sylvanvale Farm, Mokena, gave evidence for the other side of the argument on automobile seat belts last Monday morning.

He collided with a semi-trailer at the junction of U.S. 30 and Washington street, and the impact hurled him out of his car. Seconds later the car's gas tank exploded and the vehicle became a mass of flames. Marcoux was not injured, according to the report of the accident made by sheriff's deputies.

The driver of the semi-trailer, Vernon V. Critchfield, 42, of 14308 S. Kenneth st., Midlothian, also escaped injury. The truck belongs to Rogers Cartage Co. and was driven from the scene. The car was a total loss.

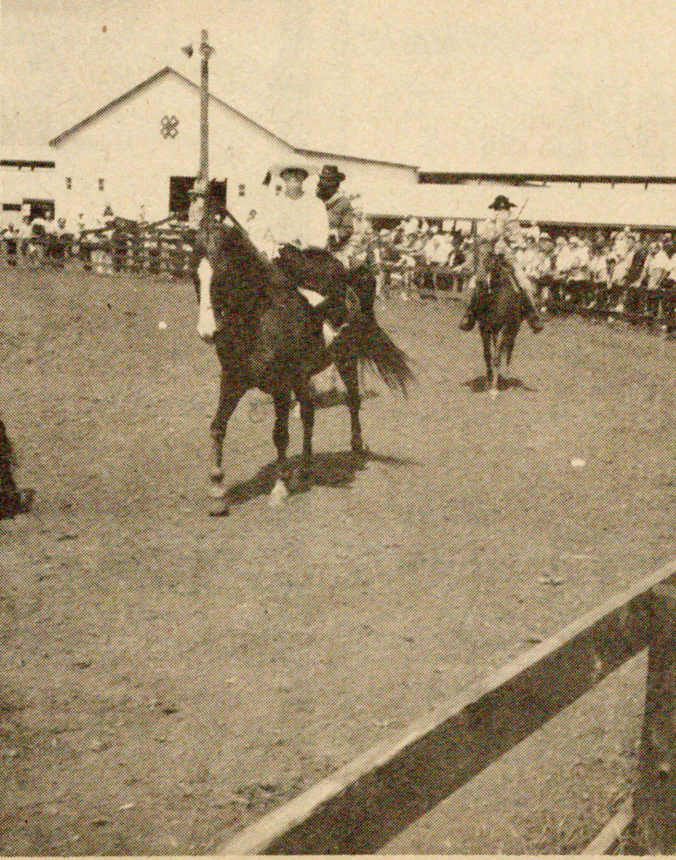

Marcoux was traveling east on U.S. 30; and semi-trailer was going west. Marcoux said the driver of the truck made a left turn in front of him onto Washington street. The truck driver said he had his directional signals working and that he was thru the intersection when the collision occurred. According to Critchfield the passenger car struck the right rear wheel of the semi-trailer.

Had Marcoux not been thrown clear, it was pointed out, he most likely would have been trapped by the fire.

Plan Adult School at L-W For Fall Term

Lincoln-Way high school is planning an adult education program for the 1962 fall term. Donald D'Amico, assistant superintendent of Lincoln-Way, reported that the school will offer a most comprehensive program, including such courses as typing, shorthand, business machines, basic electronics, machine woodworking, physical fitness program for women, beginning gymnastics, clothing construction, flower arranging course, electrical wiring for farm and home, young farmer and farm shop program, speed reading to improve reading rate, public speaking, photography, art, etc. He indicated that every attempt will be made to provide instruction in any subject for which there is sufficient demand.

THE COSTUME CLASS at the annual New Lenox Riding club horseshow drew many colorful entries. Winner of second prize was Barbara Alling, of Joliet, attired as an Indian warrior, complete with war bonnet, and riding a paint pony Indian fashion. In the foreground of the other picture is Sharon Klausing, of New Lenox, riding side saddle. The only place one sees a side saddle in use any more is at a horseshow or a circus.

Ready To Aid Educable Mentally Handicapped

Plans have been proceeding during the summer months toward the establishment of a special education program for the elementary students of the Lincoln-Way area. An association known as The School Association for Special Education in the Lincoln-Way Area has been organized. The member schools are Frankfort, Manhattan, Mokena, New Lenox, Schuyl, Summit Hill, and Weithendorf.

For the 1962-1963 school year the association plans to operate a class for educable mentally handicapped students. The class will meet at the Manhattan public school. Enrollment in this class is limited to fifteen students by the office of the state superintendent of public instruction.

To qualify for membership in the class a student must be examined by a state qualified psychological examiner. The association has engaged the services of Isaac Jolles and Gene Cox qualified psychological examiners from Homewood for this assignment.

Put End to Merrymaking

Donald Sands, operator of a tavern at Mokena, and John Popilek, a patron, also of Mokena, are scheduled to appear before Police Magistrate Ronald Whitaker at New Lenox July 30 on charges of disorderly conduct.

There was a spot of trouble at Sands establishment last Saturday night. A dance was in progress on the parking lot with everyone merry and bright.

Then Popilek appeared. Apparently he did not come to dance. He went into the bar and called for a drink. Sands contends that in his opinion Popilek didn't need another drink and he informed him to that effect. One word led to another as they sometimes do and Sands is alleged to have pushed Popilek out the door.

One push begets another, they say, and when officers arrived on the scene Sands had some scuffed knuckles and Popilek had something like a dent up where the nose separates the eyes. The only judge that could be found in the area was Magistrate Whitaker. Popilek got a warrant against Sands so Sands got a warrant against Popilek. Both were released on bonds of $200, for hearing at 7:30 p.m. July 30.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Peotone for Albert H. Lindemann, 76, a former resident of Green Garden who died Wednesday July 18 at Hillman Memorial Hospital, Manteno.

A native of Will county he farmed it at one time but retired from farming a number of years ago. In his later years he was a resident of Peotone and at one time was custodian of the grade school there.

He was a member of Immanuel United Church of Christ, Peotone. Besides his wife, Martha, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ervin Piper of Bourbonnais; one grandson; three sisters, Mrs. Herman Kuester of Frankfort; Mrs. Ida Eckhoff of Mokena; and Mrs. Esther Rapp of Millford; also a brother Carl of Crete.

Dr. E. H. Plassmann pastor of the Peotone church officiated in the funeral. Burial was in the Green Garden cemetery. Other governments such as

REVIEWS SOCIALISM

Dear Sir:

The Socialistic theory expounded by Karl Heinrich Marx was the result of, first, having a revolutionary mind and second, by association with Hegel, a professor who taught him when he attended Bonn and Berlin universities. In 1848, he issued his Communist Manifesto.

In 1883, Marx died and coincidentally, the "Fabian Society" was born in London. The founders were, a scotch-born American citizen, Thomas Davidson, Edward R. Pease, a member of the London Stock Exchange, Havelock Ellis and Frank Podmore, both writers. Soon afterward, they were joined by Bernard Shaw and Sydney Webb. One of their fundamental principles being, to infiltrate, corrupt and dominate or destroy other groups or societies in order to push their socialistic theories, after their intellectual manner and silk glove technique had gained entrance for them.

Their ideas can best be given by quoting Bernard Shaw: "I also made it clear that Socialism means equality of income or nothing, and that under Socialism you would not be allowed to be poor. You would be forcibly fed, clothed, lodged, taught and employed whether you like it or not. If it were discovered that you had not character and industry enough to be worth all this trouble, you might be executed in a kindly manner; but whilst you were permitted to live you would have to live well."

Lenin and his followers were hosted in London in 1907 by the "Fabians". As time went on, the membership of the society grew in numbers and power, having infiltrated government, banks and universities. The Liberal party in England succumbed to their power and the Labor party was born in 1918. Ramsey MacDonald became the party's first Prime Minister in 1924. Oxford and Cambridge Universities were penetrated and soon dominated by Fabians.

John Maynard Keynes, a new member of the society in 1903 began to spread his economic theories which expressed strong opposition to the principles of private enterprise, saving or investing money was considered evil. Subjugation of the people was to be accomplished by taxation. The planning and complete control of society should be placed in the hands of the self proclaimed, a BRAIN TRUST, of Keynesian-Fabians which was necessary to establish a socialistic system.

These theories have been used in installing, organizing and operating such governments as Argentina had under Peron, Germany under Hitler, Mussolini's fascist Italy and the Soviet Union under Lenin, Stalin and Company.

Other governments such as Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, Israel and the United States have been embracing these principles for quite some time.

In order to gain a foot hold in the United States, Harvard University was chosen because of its reputation, as the best spot for a base of operations. At present there are some 1300 on the faculty, all welded into one group indoctrinated in one direction (left) which constitutes full control of Harvard. Graduates who have been stupefied by this Keynesian-Fabian infiltrate other Universities and our government.

The prime requisite for government employment, in top-level capacities, today, is a diploma from Harvard, Oxford or Cambridge.

We, the naive public, are told by none other than our President, "there are those who equate Liberalism with Socialism and Socialism with Communism, but there is no semblance."

You be the judge as to whether Liberalism is related to Socialism. Study or try to remember what bureaucracies have been installed, the ever power hungry Federal government's gradual removal of your liberties and the controls on every phase of your life or business. You can see that there is little FREEDOM remaining and after taxation little money in your pockets. As for the kinship between Socialism and Communism—take the concepts and statements made by Khrushchev & Co., they use the terms interchangeably.

Therefore: As in geometry, the theorem is true, Liberalism is Socialism or Communism. Wake up America! The wolf is not at the door, he is standing over you and licking his chops, he is about to devour you. You can save your Country and yourself providing you VOTE FOR CONSERVATIVES to represent

Area Bowlers Lead in Bowl Doubles

Drexel White of New Lenox, with his partner, Larry Malone of Manhattan, continue to lead the variable doubles tournament with 1,400 pins, including handicaps, at the Suburbanite Bowl, Ogden Ave., and Washington St., in Westmont.

Leading the men's singles with 746 is Charles Pfeifer of Aurora.

The 'twin' tournaments, running thru July 29, are both accepting post entries.

Bowlers can enter as often as they wish. In the doubles, however, a bowler can cash only once with the same partner. Malone paced the doubles leaders with a 649 on games of 195-205-249. White gave him 592 on games of 218-185-189. This was good for a 1,241 scratch series and, with their spot of 159, enabled them to total 1400.

Both the doubles and singles top prizes are $350.00.

Frank Scheck, tournament manager, is accepting advance reservations at Woodland 8-2200.

On Second Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Jefferson P. Throttlebottom, M.F. (Master Freeloader), eminent bourbon critic and distinguished saloon guide, was reading a press release from one of the insurance companies. The article was addressed to motorists in general, warning them against pitfalls and deadfalls that a tourist may encounter while driving about these United States.

"It would seem," said Mr. Throttlebottom, "from this piece that adventure has not deserted the highways. The modern traveler goes faster than the pioneer but his way is still beset with dangers."

"It is true that the pioneer occasionally walked or rode into an ambush set by hostile Indians but that was nothing compared to auto travel today. Every hill, every curve is a potential ambush thru a car coming on the wrong side of the highway."

"I haven't seen any figures on it," Jeff went on, "but I wouldn't be afraid to lay a small wager that the automobile killed more people last year than the Indians ever killed in all their troubles with the whites from the landing of the first colonists to the turn of the current century."

"When you get right down to it today is no different than any other period—the traveler has always been game for the sharpie."

"I see in this article by the insurance people," Jeff continued, "that some motels and eating places pad their bills; that some garages sell repairs and parts that are unnecessary and that in some sections restaurant keepers add to their income by shaking dice for the check."

"If the traveler walked out after the first roll the practice would soon cease because the sucker, pardon me, I mean customer, always wins the first one. It is when he goes again, 'double or nothing' that he gets into trouble. Because it is then that he discovers that Lady Luck has gone out for lunch or a week-end cruise and in trying to get his money back he finds himself out quite a bit of pelf. "Apparently this particular deadfall has supplanted the so called zoo or reptile display so popular a few years ago. There were a number of these traps scattered about in sections where the lawmen could be persuaded to look the other way."

"Only tourists people with license plates to show they had come from afar were ever set up for the kill. The keeper always kept a supply of bright colored Indian blankets made in New Jersey. How would the visitor like to win a nice blanket as a souvenir? Look, it was easy. One just rolled these balls down this board and they would drop in these cups—holloved out places on the board. The cups were numbered and if the numbers added up to a certain figure or over, why one had the blanket."

"The tourist found the game ridiculously easy. He had a blanket the very first try, and the second and the third. The keeper then kindly explained that if the traveler didn't want to go around looking like a blanket salesman, he could have the money."

"If the customer wasn't interested in playing for money the keeper would get rid of him in a hurry. These keepers were pretty fair at sizing up an individual and seldom made a mistake in selecting a sucker."

"Sometimes the victim would be separated from five—six hundred dollars and I can recall one case where a man lost $1,100 this way and never got any of it back and an instance where a man was taken for around $2,200 only in that case one of the women in the party went to the sheriff of a neighboring county and complained it was her money. The pitch was so close to this other county that a lot of people believed it was in it and this sheriff was getting tired of getting complaints about something for which he wasn't responsible. He went to the front for the chump that was saved off for the 22—hundred and got it back. "Most victims, however," Jeff went on, "take their loss and keep their mouths shut. They don't want their friends or business acquaintances to learn what suckers they have been and besides that most of them live such a distance from where the thieving occurs that it would not pay them to return to prosecute. That why the boys keep off the locals."

"No one likes to appear before his fellowmen as a prize chump and can men rely on this fact a great deal in pursuing their trade. They are good psychologists too; they have to be to keep out of jail."

"A tourist," Jeff summed up, "should remember that highways are like some carry lots . . . there are gyp joints sandwiched in between legitimate attractions and that whenever someone has a game he wants to play for cash the customer is not going to get any of it. For the happy vacation drive carefully and remember no one is going to give you something for nothing. So long, son, always count your change and stay away from shell games and three-card monte."

WILLIAM F. WHITESIDE
COOK COUNTY FARM AD-VISER TINLEY PARK - KE 2-4369

Four Cook county 4-H'ers will join more than 350 Illinois 4-H Club members at the 4-H State Junior Leadership Conference July 23-28, 4-H'ers attending the conference are: Bill Kerchenfaut, Elgin; William Andrews, Park Forest; Valerie Klein, Chicago Heights; Cheryl Maxwell, Mt. Prospect. All were selected for their outstanding leadership in 4-H activities during the past year.

Object of this annual conference is to give 4-H'ers training in leadership. By working on committees and taking part in camp activities, they will learn new methods and get ideas on leadership to take back to other 4-H members in their counties.

This year's conference program features a series of lectures by Miss Emmie Nelson, field representative, National 4-H Service Committee. Other speakers are Hugh Muncy, executive vice-president, Illinois Retail Merchants Association; H. V. Geib, technical leader, Agency for International Development; and Margaret Good-year, associate professor of home economics, and Warren Wessels, assistant to the Dean, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

A complete program of sports crafts and tours has also been planned for the conference. Members of the University of Illinois 4-H state staff are advisers for the program.

Two 4-H boys were selected on their past 4-H records and their interest in conservation and wildlife, to attend the Wildlife Conservation Camp July 30 through August 3, at 4-H Memorial Camp near Monticello. These boys are: John Stellwagen, Tinley Park, and Marshall Mendelsohn, Park Forest. A very interesting program is planned for them.

Two 4-H members from Cook county will be attending the Illinois Farm Boys' Forestry camp which will be held Aug. 5 - 11 at West Frankfort in the Shawnee National Forest. They are Martin Sidor and Mike Grismer of Arlington Heights. These boys submitted applications for this camp several months ago and their applications were accepted by the University of Illinois Forestry department on the basis of their interest in forestry. The boys will be given practical experience in forest management and will have the opportunity to work in

Glen Teason Touring Europe

Glen Teason, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Teason of 9530 W. 131st, Palos Park, is enjoying an extended tour of Europe.

Glenn is a graduate of Carl Sandburg High school and Lyons Township Jr. college. He is now employed as a telephone exchange engineer by the Automatic Electric Company of Northlake.

He left June 30, and flew to Gothenburg, Sweden where he was met by a friend whom he had met while visiting in Sweden two years ago.

Glen and his friend rented a Volvo, a Swedish car, and then drove south to the Riviera. They came to the conclusion that Monaco is very beautiful and very expensive.

From Monaco they motored to Switzerland to do some skiing and then on to Paris to visit the Louvre.

Their next stop will be Antwerp, Belgium, where the Automatic Electric Company has a factory. Glen has a letter of introduction with him which will enable him to see the workings of this plant from more than a tourist standpoint.

From Antwerp he will go to Copenhagen, Denmark, then back to Gothenburg, arriving home on July 30.

In the fall he will attend classes at LIT with 75 per cent of his expenses paid by the Automatic Electric Company.

Hints For Homeowners

BY: JAMES FIZZELL,
ASS'T FARM ADVISER

The daylily ranks among the best of hardy perennials for gardens in this area. Many gardeners remember this plant as the Tawny Daylily which spreads rapidly and soon becomes a pest in the garden. This first exposure is unfortunate because the modern day varieties do not possess this habit and are well suited for use in the flower border. The color range, form, and flower size have been improved through breeding so that you would scarcely know that modern daylilies are descendants of the old species.

Daylilies are herbaceous perennials which form large clumps of rich green, strap-like leaves. The flowers arise on tall flower stalks which arise from the clump. The name, daylily, and the botanical name, HEMEROCALLIS which means beautiful for a day, reflect one of the characteristics of this plant. The individual flowers last but one day. But since there are many buds on each flower stalk the plants remain colorful for several weeks. The foliage remains attractive all season.

Daylilies grow best in a medium-heavy loam. They have been raised with considerable success, however, in soils ranging from the lightest sandy types to the heaviest clays, and under widely varying climatic conditions. To get the soil into good physical condition, spade it deep and work in generous amounts of well rotted manure, compost, leafmold, or peat. This organic matter helps to maintain good tilth, aids in holding moisture, and acts as a storehouse for plant nutrients. Sandy soils are especially benefited by applications of organic matter. The daylily does well under a wide range of moisture conditions. While certain varieties will grow satisfactorily in extremely dry and also in excessively wet areas, most daylilies prefer good drainage, and moderate moisture. In gardens with poor drainage, raised beds are a practical solution to the moisture problem.

For top performance the daylily a national forest in Illinois. These boys will be able to present other 4-H members and 4-H clubs, interesting programs on their activities while at this camp. The Kiwanis club of Southwest Chicago sponsored the camp fees for these boys.

Mackay Imposes Fines On Young Bottle Throwers

Two men attending a picnic on the Valley View grounds Sunday threw bottles and mud at the car of another patron as he was leaving.

The victim, Deno Davia 10528
 S. Lawndale, Chicago, called police and state troopers and sheriff's deputies responded.

They arrested William R.
 Bliss, 21, of 9605 Lawndale, Evergreen Park, and a companion who had two identification cards on his person, according to the report at the sheriff's office— Thomas J. Goberville, 20, of 11013 S. Artesian ave.,
 Chicago, and Ralph W. Pardif, 21, 8310 S. Indiana ave., Chicago.

Bliss became quite abusive, the report states, and tried to strike a deputy. He was restrained.

They were locked up in the county jail until Monday morning when they were arraigned before Justice of the Peace

Anthony Mackay on charges of disorderly conduct. Found gail-ty each was fined $200 and costs.
 The fines were paid. Before they were released, however, each defendant had to write the sentence—"I shall not throw bottles at anyone" --500 times, each sentence being numbered.

The man with the two identification cards used the name Goberville when in court, claiming that was the right one.
